About the Book

Frank Einstein loves figuring out how the world works by creating household contraptions that are part science, part imagination, and definitely unusual.

After an uneventful experiment in his garage-lab, a lightning storm and flash of electricity bring Frank's inventions—the robots Klink and Klank—to life! Not exactly the ideal lab partners, the wisecracking Klink and the overly expressive Klank nonetheless help Frank attempt to perfect his Antimatter Motor . . . until Frank's archnemesis, T. Edison, steals Klink and Klank for his evil doomsday plan!

Using real science, Jon Scieszka has created a unique world of adventure and science fiction—an irresistible chemical reaction for middle-grade readers.

We are delighted to announce that best selling children's author and former National Ambassador for Young People's Literature, Jon Scieszka will visit Highland School on Thursday, September 18 to discuss his new book, Frank Einstein and the Antimatter Motor. The author will be speaking to students in grades 3 - 5.

An author visit is a wonderful opportunity for young readers to meet the creators of the books they read, and we have arranged for both students and teachers to purchase autographed copies of their books. Please consider extending this learning experience through the purchase of an autographed book.

About the Author

Jon Scieszka was appointed the first National Ambassador for Young People's Literature in January 2008.

Before he became an author, he attended military school, studied pre-med in college, and worked as a lifeguard and house painter. He also taught computers, math, science, and history to kids grades 1-8.

Jon writes books because he loves to make kids laugh. His motto in writing is: "Never underestimate the intelligence of your audience." Kids can be silly and smart!

Jon lives in Brooklyn with his wife and two children.
